Success story

Egypt Screening Service Experience

Dr. Margaret Chan's Word "October 2016" (Director-General of WHO)

- ❖ Egypt's experience in Hepatitis C in negotiating the price for generic effective antiviral is a model that all the countries should follow given that Egypt alone treated more than 800,000 during last year
- ❖ Egypt today has no waiting list for patients requesting treatment and the focus is now on prevention and case detection

Why Egypt?

While the whole world treated 1 million patients last year, Egypt alone treated more than 830,000 patients this was made possible by implementing advanced global disease management protocols at highly affordable costs through locally manufactured medications
